

Field Service Engineer

Posted: 09/01/21

Ronan Engineering Company, a global manufacturer of instruments for the process control and power generation markets, has an excellent opportunity for a Field Service Engineer to cover the domestic USA and some international travel.

Job Description:

- Provide technical phone support on Ronan Measurements Product lines.
- Making repair in the field at customer sites.
- Understand the basic process/operations in refineries, chemical plants, and other heavy industries.
- Travel domestically with little to no notice.
- Understand, follow, and enforce all established safety, health, quality and company policies and procedures.
- Work with Engineering, Field Service, Production and Sales departments to provide customer support.

Requirements:

- 2 years of electronic engineering and leadership skills. Strong verbal and written skills. Knowledge of electronic schematics, and wiring interconnect drawings. Skilled with multimeters, oscilloscopes, electronic assembly, and quality control. Understand how to troubleshoot electronics.
- The preferred candidate should have experience in electronic manufacturing and instrumentation.
- Understanding of 4-20 mA outputs, communication protocols, HART Foundation, Fieldbus, RS232, RS485. Analog input signals and pulse signals.
- Demonstrate initiative
- Be a self-starter

Work Authorization: U.S. Citizen

We offer competitive pay and benefit package including company matching 401(k), health/dental/ vision/ life/ and disability insurance.

Drug screening and background check required.

Send resume to jgarmany@ronanmeasure.com